

Ann Masik

In Gratitude for Service to Her Parish

Ann and her husband Jim started attending St. Aloysius Church in 1951.

At St. Aloysius, Ann started the church council and served on that for many years. She also started the Aloysius Club which ran all the social activities. She served as lector and Eucharistic minister, and along with her husband Jim, helped to raise funds to buy the land for Our Lady of the Rosary church and school.

After St. Aloysius church was sold, Ann and Jim began worshipping at St. Thomas Aquinas. Here Ann has been a lector, a Eucharistic minister, and a presider at Communion services. She has served on many committees for social events, helped with home ministry, and leads the rosary after weekday Mass.

Ann serves her community as a block leader, collects money from her neighbors for many causes, and completed 15 years of ministry at Stanford University Hospital.

She has six children, all of whom are churchgoers, and says the following: “I thank God for my deep faith and I love belonging to a parish. It’s my church family! I take no credit for my church activities. God does it all; I’m His instrument. Thank you, Jesus!”
