Hike Report - Shoreline:

It was chilly this morning, but the sun was bright and beautiful. And walking warmed us up. It was a relatively small crowd that started out, but we grew in numbers all the way to the bench. There we paused, but not for too long, because it was getting chilly again.

Our bird diarists were observing all the different species of ducks, egrets, herons, hawks, etc, etc, and recording the observations in the bird diary. This is the second year we've been using the same book, and it is interesting, if not all that remarkable, that the species of birds change with the seasons each year. But some of the birds, like the coots, stay year round, as do we hikers. We always hike... rain or shine... chilly or hot... windy or not! We're perennials!

Coming up: Next Saturday is another regular Shoreline hike. The regular Edgewood first Saturday hike will be leaderless. Let Randy know if you have questions or want to lead the hike. This Wednesday is the regular 1st & 3rd Wednesday Transitions support group. See below for details, and for the latest on all the upcoming events, visit: <http://palaltocatholic.org/aofa.html>.
